THE HARVEY H. LOWREY SCHOOL CONCLUDES A QUARTER OF A CENTURY

Twenty-five years ago The Harvey H. Lowrey School began to serve the people of the community. It was a new elementary and junior high school in a new and rapidly growing center with a complete unit to care for those with special problems and afflictions.

Thus, The Lowrey School has evolved from the planner's chart to the builder's reality to be concluded in a service which has extended through a severe depression into the throes of a world war. In the post-war period, services of the school were extended to include the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades. The beautiful stone building stands as a monument to its builders, dedicated to free public education. But its real significance lies in the hearts, minds, and service of its pupils, faculty, and staff.

Many people have attended Lowrey School. Some Lowrey students have sacrificed their lives for their country. Others have contributed their services in a variety of ways. The building is a beautiful structure, but the school will continue to live only in the lives of those who have served it and in the lives of those who have been served by it.

May we all dedicate ourselves to the never finished tasks about us. May we serve and build better wherever we are because of our association with the HARVEY H. LOWREY SCHOOL.

Merwin A. Lewis, PRINCIPAL

WE HONOR OUR TEACHERS

We honor these teachers for their contribution to the success of Harvey H. Lowrey School. They opened our building in 1927.

This loyalty of teachers to the school gives evidence that they not only have love for the profession, but also that they wish to help democracy in its never ending struggle to educate all its children. May they be happy in the knowledge that the ideas which they have helped us acquire these many years will be carried into the world wherever we go.

Student Council

Everyone knows that the Lowrey sports emblem is a "polar bear". But no one knows what it stands for or how this idea originated. When our country was in the midst of a great depression, a government-employed W.P.A. worker, who was skilled in the art of sculpturing, carved a statue of a cub polar bear. Our school was fortunate in obtaining this statue through the efforts of Mr. Jach, former athletic director, who promoted the idea of using the polar bear as the school emblem. Since that time, the polar bear has lost some of its significance and has, in a sense, been in a long hibernation. One day, while in study hall, Mr. Leyrer, our Art instructor, spied the statue of the bear with its nose pointed toward the corner. With this forlorn image in mind he went to Mr. Lewis and asked what could be done to renovate and make this statue presentable. Mr. Lewis very generously replied, "Anything you want to do."

With administrative approval the real work began. He scoured the bear until it became many shades lighter. Then the school carpenters were asked to build a pedestal for this statue. They built a beautiful stand out of solid oak. Now the bear was ready for presentation. But what of its background? At this point the Student Council took over. A committee of two, consisting of Jerry Kornell and Jean Juday, set to work. They contacted everyone who might know something of this statue; teachers, the administration, and the school board members. But they could unearth very few facts. What they did discover was printed in a bulletin for the homerooms.

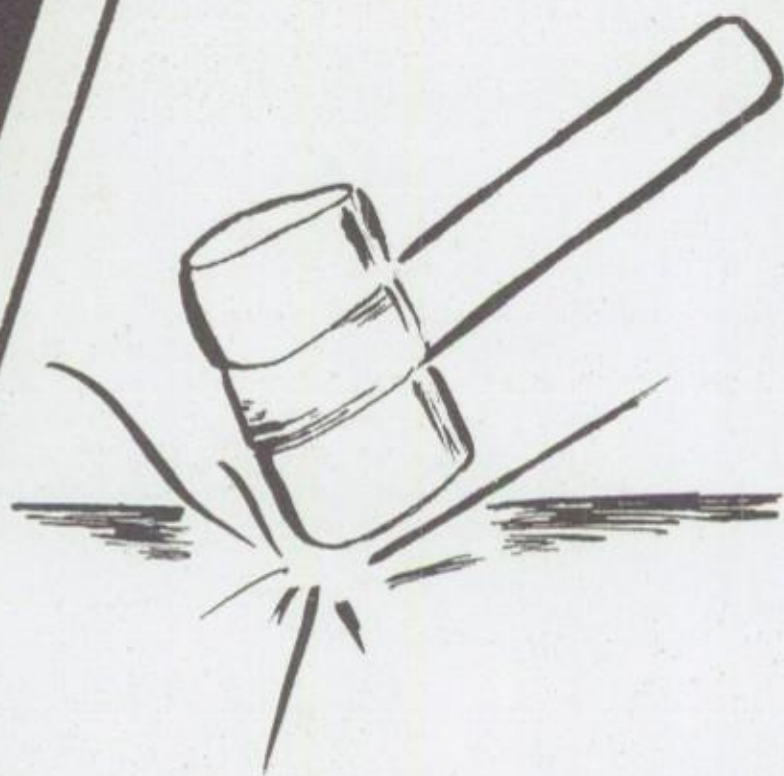

Row 1- Robert Noles, Pat Gale, Jean Juday, Neva Silberston, Mary Klassen, Betty Neal, Frank Franchi. Row 2- Chuck Bailey, Jerry Kornell, Jerry Trimark, Daniel Hockett, John Allen, Mr. Reincke.

With this bulletin in mind a citizenship meeting was called. Representatives from all senior high homerooms were present. Jerry Kornell briefed them on what had been going on. Then Mr. Lewis asked that these people talk to their homerooms about having respect and pride in this emblem. Mr. Leyrer and Mr. Reincke also spoke on the pride that was needed, not only in our school but in ourselves, to keep this bear in proper condition. Homeroom was extended five minutes purposely to give the homeroom representatives a chance to put across this important point. The Student Council is proud to carry on the tradition of the Lowrey Polar Bear.
